Do you wish doing your accounts was less taxing? It could be if you use a system we offer at Power2 called BankLink.

BankLink delivers a secure, electronic copy of your bank statement directly from the bank to your accountant. It means that all your financial data comes directly to us. No more storing up chequebook stubs, searching for missing bank statements, or providing us with your reconciliation.

From this information, we can then easily code the transactions, or quickly identify where we need more information from you. We can also provide quick, accurate information for GST returns.

Using BankLink saves you time that is better spent running your business.

More information – when you need it

As BankLink allows us to work with your accounts on a regular basis, we can keep track of your business performance and provide you with improved business information.

Who uses BankLink?

Over 3,000 accountancy practices in Australia and New Zealand use BankLink.

All major banks are supplying data through BankLink and there is increasing penetration into other financial institutions with over 70 banks, building societies, credit cards, credit unions and rural suppliers available.
